SITE DESCRIPTION:

This rocky point is west of the community of Fort Bragg and just north of the Noyo River mouth. Offshore rocks in the area are managed by BLM as part of the California Coastal National Monument. Rocky coastal headland consisting of wave-cut platforms, bedrock outcroppings, and seastacks (85%). About 15% of shoreline lies within pocket coves consisting of coarse grain sand and pebbles. Short section (200 feet) riprap near mill outfall. Moderate debris consisting of algae and light woody debris found on most beaches. Area fully exposed to wave energy

SEASONAL and SPECIAL RESOURCE CONCERN

Breeding seabirds will use these rocks for nesting in the spring. Offshore rocks provide roosting and nesting habitat for birds and haul out locations for marine mammals. Care should be taken so that response activities do not flush wildlife from these areas. The offshore rocks have cultural significance for local tribes.

RESOURCES OF PRIMARY CONCERN

The rocks are sensitive to human intrusion year round, especially during nesting season (03-09) when the adults are on eggs and until the young have fledged from the nest.

Seabird colonies

Haul outs for Harbor seals

Epibiotic communities: mytilus, barnacles, urchins, red abalone

Algal communities consisting primarily of Nereocystus, Postelsia, various laminaria, and encrusting coralline algae. Phyllospadix (surfgrass)

CONCERNS and ADVICE to RESPONDERS:

Last Page Update :

The rugged coastline will prevent on shore response over most of this area. Off site measures including dispersants should be considered when a spill threatens to impact this area. Overflights should be careful to maintain flight path and altitude clearance distances that are large enough to prevent the flushing of birds and marine mammals from their nests, roosts, and haul outs sanctuaries on the offshore rocks in this area.

HAZARDS and RESTRICTIONS:

Extreme current, high energy shoreline, offshore rocks

SITE STRATEGIES

This site is best protected by preventing the oil from arriving here, when possible. Off site response options including dispersants should be considered.

Strategy 1-442.1 Objective: Prevent spilled oil from floating to this site.

Conventional on-scene response is not possible at this site. Protect with off-site response measures only.
