Stone Lagoon is managed by State Parks as part of Humboldt Lagoons State Park. Coastal lagoon with freshwater marsh. Separated from the ocean by a fine to medium grain sand beach. Infrequently open to the ocean, the lagoon typically breaches at the southern end of the coastal sand spit following large rain events in combination with heavy surf.

CONCERNS and ADVICE to RESPONDERS:

It is unlikely that oil will ever reach this lagoon when the mouth is closed unless there is extremely high tides and surf. Response at the site under these conditions should probably not be attempted from anywhere near the sand spit where sleeper waves could easily disrupt response activities.

HAZARDS and RESTRICTIONS:

Current through the breach can be dangerous during storm months/events.

SITE STRATEGIES

Strategy 1-220.1 Objective: Prevent spilled oil from floating to this site.

Conventional on-scene response is not possible at this site. Protect with off-site response measures only.

Table of Response Resources

LOGISTICS

DIRECTIONS: to site (by land and/or by water, to nearest launch ramp and are access permits required.)

From Eureka, go north on U.S. hwy 101. Hwy 101 skirts the east side of the lagoon and access points are visible just off the highway. A narrow coastal access road is available on the north end of the lagoon. Parking is available at the visitor's center and at the end of the coastal access road. 4WD access to the SW corner where the lagoon generally breaches is possible from the parking lot at the end of the coastal access road. Skiffs may be launched at the State Park HQ. Stone Lagoon is managed by State Parks as part of Humboldt Lagoons State Park.

LAND ACCESS: Locked Gates

WATER LOGISTICS: Water depths are shallow in much of the lagoon

Limitations: depth, obstruction

Launching, Loading, Docking and Services Available: A boat launch ramp and visitor's center are located alongside the highway.

FACILITIES, STAGING AREAS, POSSIBLE FIELD POSTS AND EQUIPMENT AVAILABLE:

A small parking area suitable for local staging exists down a narrow road at the north end of the lagoon. No facilities or utilities are available there.
